BARGE LAUNCHED.—One of the large coal barges we spoke of some time ago as being in process of erection at Dun-fery's bost yard, in this city, was on Saturday last launched in the river. She is a huge looking boat, and will leave for below in the course of a few

The "Star" Base Ball club, of this city, played a few games on the Island has betarday evening. Quite a crowd of spectators were present. The members of the company acquited themselves in the athletic sport in a hand-some manner. They promise to become a splendid company, and if we are not mistaken, would not bestitate long in accepting a challenge to try their still with some of the other clubs.

The Union mass meeting at Triadelphia, on Saturday afternoon, was addressed by Adjutant General Peirpoint, Prof. Baine of Canonsburg, and A. W. Campbell. It was one of the best meetings held in the place for a long time, both in point of numbers and good feeling. We have not space for a detailed report of the proceedings. A considerable delegation went out from the city on the Heumfield cars.

Buffington is accused of having purchased from Dawson, the prosecutor, a counterfeit "twenty" on the National Bank of Portland. The accused are farmers, and were taken quite aback at their arrest. No counterfeit money was found with them; but it is said the evidence as to their heing "in the business" is conclusive. Ballin the sum of $5,000 each was required by Commissioner Sproull for their appearance for trial.

Mount Wood Cemeters.—There were a great many persons yesterday who took advantage of the pleasant state of weather to pay a visit to Mount Wood Cemetery. The noise and confusion of the city were exchanged for a season of quiet repose and meditation in that sylvan retreat. Many persons were there to visit again the graves of relatives and friends. The flowers are beginning to bloom beautifully and the shrubbery is showing forth its sweetest livery of green. In the evening, when the sun has gone down, and when the air is cool and pleasant, you can wander amid the tombs of Mount Wood Cemetery and examine the monuments which mark the spot where the different bodies are interred, or you can stand in the grounds and obtain a most excellent landscepe view. "God made the country—man made the town." So says Cowper, and in this dividing line that seperate the one from the other, even though in the midst of sad suggestions of the shortness of himman life, you cannot but realize the truth of the words to their fullest extent. To the South of you lays the city of Wheeling; to the right the beautiful Ohio river "dragging its slow length along" until it at length emplies itself into the lap of the mighty Father of Waters. Standing there you can faintly hear the city bells as they ring out their glad summons to the worshippers, and it is hard to express the intensity of the solemn and devotional effect they produce on your faelings. If you wish to find "serial faelings in stones" we would advise a visit to Mount Wood Cemetery. The strouding beauty and quiet solemnity of the place willserve to open up cherished memories and associations that have remained for many years in the latest and practical requirements of actual life.

for Steubenville at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Our readers will remember that a strike was recently made by white and colored steamboat hands at St. Louis recently. They demanded fity cents per hour for their labor, and the demand was necessarily acceded to by the owners of steamers laying at the levee. It seems, however, that this will prove a mere temporary affair.

A St. Louis peper of a laie date, in speaking of the matter, leave: "The wet weather yesterday put a slight damper' on the 'glorification' of the 'strikes' upon having compelled most of the steamers to submit to their exorbitant demands. We think that this strike will not be of altimate benefit to those who originated it. Many of our steamboat Captains are of the opinion that it was only gotten up for the purpose of driving the negroes off the wharf. The white laborers have bound the blacks to stand up for the present the blacks to stand up for the present figures, and we would now advise all to employ only the blacks, and in a very few days, we think, we will have quite a reduction in the price of labor." RUNAWAT.—On Saturday morning last a horse attached to a cracker wagon belonging to William Hare, of this city, took fright and run down one of the principal streets at a furious speed. The wagon at length came in contact with an obstraction that broke it to pieces and threw the driver, a German resident an obstruction that broke it to pieces and threw the driver, a German resident of this city, in a violent manner on the pavement. His injuries are not of a serious character, being confined to some few bruises on the face and limbs. The horse was also injured so badly that he will not be fit to appear in harness for some time to come.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Alfred Hughes, formerly of this city, but now of Richmond, Virginia. The success of Dr. Hughes, as a practitioner of medicine in this community, is too well mown to require any lengthy notice at known to require any lengthy notice at our bands. The eminent success which attended his treatment of Cholera in this city, and the village of Fulton just over the hill, is too well known to need especial attention. Is can be well attested by the witnesses of his skill and ability who are still living among us. His treatment also of diptheria when it first made its appearance here, and on which disease he wrot ise which attracted considerable att the time, was amply and estisfactori
